A MESSAGE TO OUR SUPPORTERS

First and foremost, thank you. Whether you are new to the significance and opportunities of NAUDL's work -- or have been a champion of our efforts for years, your connection makes a difference in creating debate programs where they wouldn't otherwise exist.

Over 20 years of the Urban Debate Network, no debater has ever paid a tournament fee, nor a travel expense, and no league has ever paid membership or association dues. Our legacy is sustainable because so many have invested in the belief that resources shouldn't determine access to the unparalleled benefits of debate.

You make it possible for an increasing number of students to participate in an activity that sharpens their problem-solving skills, builds the confidence to shape their futures, and tackles a critical gap in American education: most K-12 students are never taught how to publicly communicate. When students debate, they learn how to command a room, speak their minds in a way that can persuade any audience, and walk into new spaces with purpose -- all of which translates into college and career readiness.

For our next chapter, NAUDL is committed to continued evolution in meeting the needs of the next generation of leaders. We enthusiastically support new avenues for practicing debate in more formats and languages, engaging students through topics that are most relevant to them and their communities, and transforming the everyday classroom experience into one that sparks their interest. We hope you take as much pride as we do in preparing young people to challenge assumptions with civil discourse, to achieve their own vision of success, and to forge new paths as powerful advocates for a stronger democracy.

2025 DEBATER OF THE YEAR

For me, debate is so much more than just a game. It is a vehicle for change. It is my community. My home.

Chloe Truong

Independence High School (2025)
Silicon Valley Urban Debate League

This is what debate has taught me, and this is what I have to say: Our community has the power to be both a competitive space and a force for social progress. Through debate I have not only discovered my authentic voice, but I have also developed the courage to use it in service of something larger than myself.

I plan on majoring in either political science or economics. I am drawn to this field because of the opportunity it provides to engage with diverse communities and environments, as well as its potential to shape the future of the legal industry.

Charles has gone above and beyond in cultivating debate in Chicago. The guy is a one-man show. I cannot imagine somebody else more deserving of this honor.

Charles Rosentel

Pritzker College Prep, A Noble Charter School
Chicago Debates

Charles grows debate in his school and network, taking teachers under his wing and helping to cultivate the rare resource that is a dedicated coach. He has also made a conference within a conference -- organizing a tournament before the City Debate Championship. Impressively, he has accomplished all of this with no high school debate background himself.

A classroom of 20 novices is Charles' average afternoon. He is a much-loved teacher at Pritzker College Prep and is admired by his colleagues for his insightful feedback and coaching. He also serves on our Coaches' Council and brings a culture of inclusivity and experience-worn wisdom to that team of adults. Charles is uniquely warm-hearted and driven by mission. He is an excellent school leader and knows how to champion his values.
